CALLED HER FAMILY TO HER BEDSIDE

Six Years Ago, Thinking She Might Die, Says Texas Lady, But Now She Is a Well, Strong Woman and Praises Cardui for Her Recovery.

Bayou City, Tex.—Mrs. Mary Kilman, of this place, says: "After the birth of my little girl...my side commenced to hurt me. I had to go back to bed. We called the doctor. He treated me...but I got no better. I got worse and worse until the misery was unbearable...I was in bed for three months and suffered such agony that I was just drawn up in a knot... I told my husband if he would get me a bottle of Cardui I would try it... I commenced taking it, however, that evening I called my family about me... for I knew I could not last many days unless I had a change for

Miss Jamie Dortch arrived in Somerville Wednesday from her home in Washington, D. C. for a visit to Mrs. E. A. Maddox. Miss Dortch is the daughter of Hon. and Mrs. J. H. Dortch of Washington who formerly lived in Somerville. Miss Dortch was born here but moved with her parents to Washington when quite young when her father was appointed to an important position in the Bureau of Indian Education at the National Capital.

Winners of premiums at the recent County Fair are asking daily about premium checks. The Falcon states with authority that checks can not be issued until payment is made by subscribers to the premium fund. Said subscribers will please send their subscriptions to H. P. Stainback, Treasurer, Somerville, so that winners can be paid. Winners are advised that checks will be issued as soon as premium money is paid in and due notice will be given in The Falcon when the checks are ready. Asking for them can not hurry the matter a minute. Watch The Falcon and when the checks are ready for distribution to winners, it will be announced in these columns. Until then, please be patient and wait.

Thru a n.w. ruling made recently by the State Board of Education Several One Year Certificates have been secured by the County Superintendent for graduates of the County High School who have taught one year. If there are in the county other graduates of the County High School here who have at least a year of teaching experience, and who will accept a position for the balance of the present school year, the One Year Certificates can be secured for them if they will come to see the County Superintendent about it. There are yet a few vacancies in the schools and if patrons will apply to the County Superintendent at at once a few of the teachers named are now available for employment in such schools.

R. N. Crane who has had charge of the Poultry Work of Extension Service of the University of Tennessee for several years has leased the Alexander & Wessel farm east of this city and he and his family moved to the place last week, talking over the lands, implements, live stock, growing crops, everything on the 1200 acre plantation, under a three year lease. Mr. Crane has been coming to Fayette county for years in his extension work and was so impressed with the lands and conditions here that he sought this opportunity of settling in this county to try out farming here. He is a native of Canada, educated in the schools of the Dominion and then in southern colleges and Agricultural schools, and has been connected with the Agricultural college of Mississippi, and the University of Tennessee for many years. He married a Mississippi lady and has a most interesting family. It is with genuine pleasure that The Falcon records the coming of such men to this county.

THIS WEAK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard something about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.

Feeding the Cattle

At this season of the year it is very important that dairy cows be well fed. She is just going into winter conditions and for the best results should enter in good physical condition. While the weather is nice and pleasant, at the same time the pastures are apt to be neglected. An ounce of feed now will save a pound later.

Trustees Land Sale

Default having been made in the payment of a debt secured to be paid in a certain trust deed of date July 1st, 1912, and of record in the Registers office of Fayette County, Tenn., in Book 39, page 111, and as evidenced by 13 notes of even date there with, all of which notes are long since past due since August 1st, 1914, and the holder of said notes having requested me, the trustee named therein, to foreclose under the terms of said trust deed,

Now therefore, I, James, D. Rhoads, as said trustee, will on SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 15TH, 1919, in front of the Courthouse in Somerville, Tennessee, between the hours of, 11 A. M. and 2 P. M., offer for sale to the highest bidder for cash a certain lot or parcel of land described in said trust deed more particularly as follows, to wit:

A certain town lot in the town of Somerville, Fayette County, Tennessee, in the J. T. Morton subdivision of said town, the same being Lot No. 9 of said subdivision, containing twelve and one half One Hundredths of an acre. Said subdivision being of record in Book 34, page 437, in the Register's office at Somerville, Tenn.

This sale will be made subject to all equities and claims for redemption. I believe the title to said property to be good, in the makers of said trust deed, but will convey the same as trustee only.

This October 30th, 1919.
11-14 JAMES D. RHOADS, Trustee.

POTATO WART IS MOST DANGEROUS

TENNESSEE GROWERS LOOK FOR SUSPECTS AND SEND THEM TO COUNTY AGENT.

MAKES TUBERS WORTHLESS

Trouble Causes Decay, and Infects the Soil—Brought to United States from Europe, where Great Loss Was Wrought—Spreads Through Seed.

Potato wart, one of the most dangerous diseases to Irish potatoes, has been found in the United States. For this reason Tennessee farmers and potato growers are urged to be on the watch for its appearance.

The illustration gives one a good idea of what the wart looks like. They are rough spongy outgrowths of varying sizes and are produced on the tubers, especially at the eyes. They are light brown at first, but become black as they age and decay. Many times this disease will make all of the potatoes in a hill worthless. It does not attack vines above the ground.

Although no potato wart has been found to this date in Tennessee, it is feared that it will be found during the harvesting season. Its spread is anticipated through infected seed. Potato specialists and others from the College of Agriculture, Division of Extension, and United States Department of Agriculture, are on the lookout for this disease. They ask all growers to assist them. Carry all suspicious looking tubers to the county agricultural agent who will send them to the specialists for examination.

Potato wart has caused severe losses in Ireland and other parts of Europe. In some places the soil has become so infected that the growing of potatoes for at least a time, has been abandoned. Infested soil remains contaminated for a number of years.

Keep a watch for warty potatoes. Your finding one or more may result in the saving of you and your neighbors many hundreds of dollars.
